

Vegetarian or Vegan Tofu Breakfast Tacos

Ingredients

1 -15 oz. block extra firm tofu
2 cups hash browns
1 green pepper, diced
1 red pepper, diced
1/2 a small white onion, diced
2 Tbsp nutritional yeast
1 & 1/2 tsp chili powder
1 tsp ground cumin
1/2 tsp garlic powder
1/4 tsp salt
1/4 tsp black pepper
Whole wheat flour tortillas or corn tortillas
Black beans (optional)
Shredded cheese of choice (optional – opt out for vegan)

Directions

Press tofu for about 15 minutes by wrapping in a clean dish towel or paper towels and placing something heavy (such as a cast-iron skillet) on top.

Prepare the hash browns, diced peppers and onions by sautéing in skillet over medium-high heat with 1-2 Tbsp olive oil. Cook until hash browns are golden brown and to desired crispness. Add salt and pepper or additional seasonings as desired. If you'd like to add black beans to this, add them here. Could use canned (drained and rinsed) or freshly prepared.

While tofu is being pressed and veggies are cooking, prepare the tofu spice mixture. Place nutritional yeast, chili powder, cumin, garlic powder, salt, and pepper in a small bowl and add enough water (about 3-4 Tbsp) until it becomes a pourable sauce.

Unwrap pressed tofu and use your hands to crumble up into bite-sized pieces. Sauté for about 4-5 minutes in a separate skillet with olive oil, then pour in the spice mixture on top of the crumbled tofu. Stir continuously to make sure sauce evenly coats tofu. Cook for another 4-5 minutes (tofu should be lightly browned).

Place a scoop of veggie/hash browns and a scoop of tofu into each whole wheat tortilla. Top with avocado slices, salsa, and fresh cilantro.
