

The Green Team

2024-2025 Season Introduction

What the Leadership Group consists of:

ONLINE TASKS/ THINGS TO DO

- ▶ Join Leadership Band Group
- ▶ Monthly Topic Introduction Video
- ▶ Sign Up For a Meeting
- ▶ Zoom Meeting
  - ▶ Be prepared to share about your team & leadership
  - ▶ Green Team Task Discussions

IN-PERSON TASKS/ THINGS TO DO

- ▶ Individually practice leadership skills we talk about
  - ▶ Find YOUR way of leading
  - ▶ Focus on growth mindset
- ▶ Green Team Tasks
  - ▶ Individual challenges & goals
  - ▶ Meetings with Team during dryland
- ▶ Green Team Certifications
  - ▶ December, April, & July

Quick Introductions

- ▶ In the chat, type out:
  - ▶ Name
  - ▶ Team you swim for
  - ▶ What's the most influential person, movie, documentary, book, or song to you in your swimming career?

The Green Team

2024-2025 Season Introduction

The Green
Team
(TGT)

≈

High
Performance
Environment
(HPE)

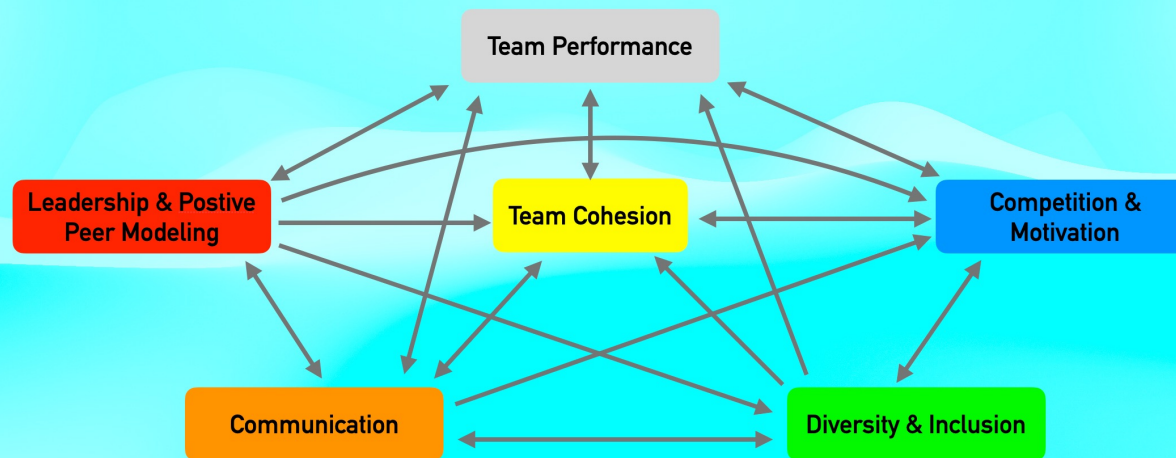

The Green Team (TGT)  $\approx$  High Performance Environment (HPE)

- High Performance Environment =
  - Ideal set of conditions in which athletes are operating/practicing
- The Green Team =
  - When the team can make the most of a High Performance Environment

High Performance Environment (HPE)

KEY TAKEAWAYS

"The Formula" for Creating a The Green Team

”The Formula” for Creating The Green Team

Leadership & Character

- Leadership is about making those around you better *(hopefully) through your influence*
- Character is HOW you show up everyday to serve & inspire those around you
- If you can apply Leadership & Character to your Training & Skills development, you’re on your way to being on The Green Team

"The Formula" for Creating The Green Team

”The Formula” for Creating The Green Team

Training & Skills

- Training and skill development set the foundation for building a The Green Team
- This includes but is not limited to:
  - Swim Training
  - Dryland Training
  - Mobility/Stability/Injury Prevention Routines
  - Nutrition
  - Sleep
  - Mental Preparation
  - School Work
  - Jobs (if you have one)

“The Formula” for Creating The Green Team

How do you get on The Green Team?

- Several Rules to the Green Team
- There are 3 teams:
  - The Green Team
  - The Gray Team
  - The Red Team

|                                                                                                                                                                           |                    |   |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|---|
| THE GREEN TEAMSTANDARDS &amp; GOALS                                                                                                                 | BUILD GREEN | ↑ |
|                                                                                                                                                                           | SWAY GRAY   | ↕ |
|                                                                                                                                                                           | REMOVE RED  | ↓ |
| 1. You need to be in the GREEN to get your teammates to the GREEN .                                                                                         |                    |   |
| 2. The more athletes in the GREEN , the easier it is to get others into the GREEN .                                                                         |                    |   |
| 3. Keeping people in the GREEN is a daily responsibility. If you let up, they'll slip up.                                                                          |                    |   |
| 4. If you're a FLOATER (floating between GREEN & GRAY or RED & GRAY depending on the day) you're always in the lower of the two levels |                    |   |
| 5. Those in the GRAY will SWAY & go where the influence is stronger: GREEN or RED .                                                           |                    |   |
| 6. The GRAY space is a SAFE space, but NOTHING SPECIAL happens there.                                                                                |                    |   |
| 7. Those in the RED like it when others are in the RED with them. They are great RECRUITERS .                                                        |                    |   |

The Red Team

- Those in RED like it when others join then in RED
- Great RECRUITERS

|                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |   |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|
| THE GREEN TEAMSTANDARDS &amp; GOALS | BUILD GREEN                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ↑ |
|                                                           | SWAY GRAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | ↕ |
|                                                           | REMOVE RED                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | ↓ |
|                                                           | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. You need to be in the GREEN to get your teammates to the GREEN.</li> <li>2. The more athletes in the GREEN, the easier it is to get others into the GREEN.</li> <li>3. Keeping people in the GREEN is a daily responsibility. If you let up, they'll slip up.</li> <li>4. If you're a FLOATER (floating between GREEN &amp; GRAY or RED &amp; GRAY depending on the day) you're always in the lower of the two levels</li> <li>5. Those in the GRAY will SWAY &amp; go where the influence is stronger: GREEN or RED.</li> <li>6. The GRAY space is a SAFE space, but NOTHING SPECIAL happens there.</li> <li>7. Those in the RED like it when others are in the RED with them. They are great RECRUITERS.</li> </ol> |   |

The Red Team

- What does it look like when RED is RECRUITING?
- Share an example, but don't use names.

|                                                                                                                                                                           |                    |   |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|---|
| THE GREEN TEAMSTANDARDS &amp; GOALS                                                                                                                     | BUILD GREEN | ↑ |
|                                                                                                                                                                           | SWAY GRAY   | ↕ |
|                                                                                                                                                                           | REMOVE RED  | ↓ |
| 1. You need to be in the GREEN to get your teammates to the GREEN .                                                                                         |                    |   |
| 2. The more athletes in the GREEN , the easier it is to get others into the GREEN .                                                                         |                    |   |
| 3. Keeping people in the GREEN is a daily responsibility. If you let up, they'll slip up.                                                                          |                    |   |
| 4. If you're a FLOATER (floating between GREEN & GRAY or RED & GRAY depending on the day) you're always in the lower of the two levels |                    |   |
| 5. Those in the GRAY will SWAY & go where the influence is stronger: GREEN or RED .                                                           |                    |   |
| 6. The GRAY space is a SAFE space, but NOTHING SPECIAL happens there.                                                                                |                    |   |
| 7. Those in the RED like it when others are in the RED with them. They are great RECRUITERS .                                                        |                    |   |

The Gray Team

- Floater - someone that changes their color depending on the day
- Floaters default to the lowest of the levels they change between

|                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |   |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|
| THE GREEN TEAMSTANDARDS &amp; GOALS | BUILD GREEN                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ↑ |
|                                                           | SWAY GRAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | ↕ |
|                                                           | REMOVE RED                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | ↓ |
|                                                           | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. You need to be in the GREEN to get your teammates to the GREEN.</li> <li>2. The more athletes in the GREEN, the easier it is to get others into the GREEN.</li> <li>3. Keeping people in the GREEN is a daily responsibility. If you let up, they'll slip up.</li> <li>4. If you're a FLOATER (floating between GREEN &amp; GRAY or RED &amp; GRAY depending on the day) you're always in the lower of the two levels</li> <li>5. Those in the GRAY will SWAY &amp; go where the influence is stronger: GREEN or RED.</li> <li>6. The GRAY space is a SAFE space, but NOTHING SPECIAL happens there.</li> <li>7. Those in the RED like it when others are in the RED with them. They are great RECRUITERS.</li> </ol> |   |

The Gray Team

- Those in the Gray will SWAY to the team with the most influence/pull
- Gray is a SAFE SPACE - you don't have to commit to anything
  - Nothing special happens in SAFE

|                                                                                                                                                                           |                    |   |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|---|
| THE GREEN TEAMSTANDARDS &amp; GOALS                                                                                                                 | BUILD GREEN | ↑ |
|                                                                                                                                                                           | SWAY GRAY   | ↕ |
|                                                                                                                                                                           | REMOVE RED  | ↓ |
| 1. You need to be in the GREEN to get your teammates to the GREEN .                                                                                         |                    |   |
| 2. The more athletes in the GREEN , the easier it is to get others into the GREEN .                                                                         |                    |   |
| 3. Keeping people in the GREEN is a daily responsibility. If you let up, they'll slip up.                                                                          |                    |   |
| 4. If you're a FLOATER (floating between GREEN & GRAY or RED & GRAY depending on the day) you're always in the lower of the two levels |                    |   |
| 5. Those in the GRAY will SWAY & go where the influence is stronger: GREEN or RED .                                                           |                    |   |
| 6. The GRAY space is a SAFE space, but NOTHING SPECIAL happens there.                                                                                |                    |   |
| 7. Those in the RED like it when others are in the RED with them. They are great RECRUITERS .                                                        |                    |   |

The Green Team

- YOU need to first become Green if you want your team to be
- More people in Green, easier it is to go SWAY GRAY to Green
- Staying Green is a daily responsibility & choice you have to make

|                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                           |   |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|---|
| THE GREEN TEAMSTANDARDS &amp; GOALS                                                                                                                                                 | BUILD GREEN | ↑ |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                              | SWAY GRAY   | ↕ |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                              | REMOVE RED  | ↓ |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                           |   |
| 1. You need to be in the GREEN to get your teammates to the GREEN .                                                                                                              |                           |   |
| 2. The more athletes in the GREEN , the easier it is to get others into the GREEN .                                                                                              |                           |   |
| 3. Keeping people in the GREEN is a daily responsibility. If you let up, they'll slip up.                                                                                                      |                           |   |
| 4. If you're a FLOATER (floating between GREEN & GRAY or RED & GRAY depending on the day) you're always in the lower of the two levels |                           |   |
| 5. Those in the GRAY will SWAY & go where the influence is stronger: GREEN or RED .                                                                  |                           |   |
| 6. The GRAY space is a SAFE space, but NOTHING SPECIAL happens there.                                                                                              |                           |   |
| 7. Those in the RED like it when others are in the RED with them. They are great RECRUITERS .                                                                      |                           |   |

”The Formula” for Creating a The Green Team

- In the chat, type out what % of your team you think is Green, Gray, and Red right now?
- You can put it in this format:
  - Green/Gray/Red
  - EX: 10/60/30

“The Formula” for Creating a The Green Team

- Let’s find our group’s starting point in “The Formula”
- Take a few mins to fill out this questionnaire:
- <https://forms.gle/kbjzfXXKbvibvw3u8>
- Personal Assessment to come next month

October Green Team Task

- Club Team Quick Leadership Meetings - WILL HAPPEN MULTIPLE TIMES
  - Host a quick 7-minute team meeting during dryland one day
  - Replace 1 set during dryland with the team meeting AFTER October 21st OR after all your team's leaders have been on a meeting that month
- Meeting Focus
  - Explain the Green Team, Grey Team, and Red Team to your practice group.
  - Come up with 3 STANDARDS of the Green Team together
- Individual Focus
  - BECOME GREEN YOURSELF - start by following through with what your group comes up with, and going above and beyond that.

