

Lifeguards and The “6”

Senior Leadership Meeting: November 2024

Follow up from October's Green Team Task

- If you had your team meeting share:
 - How the team received the Green Team info?
 - What Characteristics of the Green Team did you come up with?
 - Have you noticed a change in the team after this meeting so far?
- If you did not have your team meeting share:
 - What were the biggest challenges/ problems in trying to plan/organize it?
 - If you have any ideas of better ways to incorporate these ideas with the team instead of a meeting

3 Levels of Accountability

1. THE GREEN TEAM

Athletes that set the standard for the team by showing up Green everyday.

2. LIFEGUARDS

Athletes that help raise performance of others, and watch out for those slipping into Red.

3. THE "6"

The Athlete that personally has your back. Ideally, everyone has a "6" and is a "6" for someone else.

Levels of Accountability

1st Level of Accountability:
The Green Team

2nd Level of Accountability
Lifeguards

3rd Level of Accountability
The 6

2nd Level of Accountability

2. LIFEGUARDS

Athletes that help raise performance of others, and watch out for those slipping into Red.

- If anyone is currently a lifeguard, what are the duties you have when watching the pool?

2nd Level of Accountability

2. LIFEGUARDS

Athletes that help raise performance of others, and watch out for those slipping into Red.

- What are some warning signs of athletes slipping past the Gray & into the Red?
 - How can you “save” someone displaying that warning sign?

2nd Level of Accountability

2. LIFEGUARDS

Athletes that help raise performance of others, and watch out for those slipping into Red.

- Warning Signs to Look for:
 - Skipping more practices
 - Hanging around Red Team members more and more
 - Not as lively at practice as they used to be
 - “I can’t” “This is too hard” “I don’t want to do this”
 - Drawing back from the team, not engaging as much
 - Increase in complaining

2nd Level of Accountability

2. LIFEGUARDS

Athletes that help raise performance of others, and watch out for those slipping into Red.

- Throwing Life-Lines
 - What do you do when someone does not want your help?

3rd Level of Accountability

3. THE "6"

The Athlete that personally has your back. Ideally, everyone has a "6" and is a "6" for someone else.

- Does anyone currently have a “6” or accountability partner?
 - If so, what have been some of the benefits?
 - What do you and your partner hold each other accountable to?

3rd Level of Accountability

3. THE "6"

The Athlete that personally has your back. Ideally, everyone has a "6" and is a "6" for someone else.

- Has anyone ever struggled with calling someone out?
 - If so, what are your biggest struggles/hesitations?

3rd Level of Accountability

3. THE "6"

The Athlete that personally has your back. Ideally, everyone has a "6" and is a "6" for someone else.

- When having a conversation with a 6 about a change they need to make you need a balance of:
 - Sugar (love)
 - Salt (truth)

Individual Leadership Assessment

- https://docs.google.com/forms/d/1GAssp4HtIbXb9jB20cBkypN8hbrbSYp_3Aoc49pC_zM/edit
- Honestly Rate Yourself
- We will do this again in February & May

November Green Team Task

- Team Meeting:
 - After November 18th OR after all your team's leaders have met/ watched the topic videos & know what the focus is
 - Explain "Lifeguards" - 2nd layer of accountability
 - Have everyone list at least 3 warning signs of slipping into the red or "drowning" that they will personally keep an eye out for
 - Have a few athletes share what their warning signs are
 - Explain "the 6"
 - Help partner everyone up so that everyone will have at least 1 person watching their back, as well as watching at least 1 other person's back

Green Check Certification

- For teams that participate, coaches will nominate athletes they believe have represented the Green Team so far this season
- In December after mid-season meet
- Green Team Members will get a special shoutout on the website & social media!
